VOL. XXIII — RENO, WASHOE COUNTY, NEVADA, MONDAY, AUGUST 8, 1887. — NO. 109

In Brief, and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Merit Will Tell.

Was never better demonstrated than when "Fryer's Abietene Remedies" were awarded diplomas at the late California State Fair at Sacramento and at the Mechanics Institute at San Francisco. W. Pinniger is agent for these celebrated "Abietine Remedies" and he offers to return your money if they do not give satisfaction. In buying, be sure the fac-simile signature of D. F. Fryer is on each, as none are genuine without it.

FANTASTIC FACTS.

Queer Stories of Men, Dogs, Hogs and Snakes.

IN A CHIMNEY.

While engaged in repairing the old McConoley residence at San Ramon, near Haywards, a few days ago, Julius Cathcot found stowed away in a round chimney hole a sack containing $1,200 in $20 pieces. McConoley, when notified of the find, remembered having hidden the money there long ago, but had entirely forgotten it.

TOO MANY SHELLS.

Sunday night the building on South Front street, used for an office by A. F. Ludington, an oyster dealer, was pushed from its foundations in a singular manner. A heap containing 10,000 bushels of oyster shells piled against the building exerted such a pressure that the building, which is thirty-six feet in length, was pushed from its pile foundations. The rear of the building, on which the chimney is, was moved four feet north. The front was not moved so far. The building, which is one and one-half stories high, was shattered and bulged, and is damaged beyond repair.

TO THE DEATH.

An interesting encounter between a rattlesnake and two hogs was witnessed a few days ago near where the Jacksonville, Tampa and Key West Railroad crosses Black Creek, in this county. There were two sows in the same locality, each with a litter of pigs. A large rattlesnake attacked one of the pigs and killed it, when the mother of the pig attacked the snake, but, being bitten by the serpent, fell by her offspring and died immediately. The next sow then rushed upon his snakeship, when she also received the fangs of the rattler. The sow, however, got in her work on the snake and killed him, when she also lay down and died.

TOOK THINGS COOLLY.

A certain lady who is not unknown in Philadelphia society has been twice a widow, but is now the pride of a third husband. The lady alludes to her husbands as her "first," "former," and "present." She often relates pleasant memories of her husbands one and two. The latter she describes as a man who always endeavored to appear perfectly cool and collected on every occasion. One summer they were staying at an hotel and were aroused in the middle of the night by an alarm of fire. The flames were burning fiercely, but the husband calmly said to his wife: "Dress carefully, my dear, just as much as if you were preparing for a ball." Well, they finally left the room and got out on the lawn in safety, with even their portmanteaus rescued. The husband immediately began to dilate on the advantage of always taking things coolly, to which his wife replied that she thoroughly agreed with him, but still she begged to remind him "that he had forgot to put on his inexpressibles," and he had.

A NIGHT OF PERIL.

A strange story of an escape was recently told us. A collier lad, going across a heath returning from his "turn" one evening, suddenly slipped into a hole, but by some means managed to grasp the edge, and so held on by his fingers to this treacherous but only safeguard. The evening passed into the dusk, star after star came out; but no moon; hour after hour dragged on, and still the hapless miner gripped the edges of the shaft over which he hung with the tenacity of despair. At last dawn broke slowly, the gray light stole over the heath, breaking through the morning's mists, when he saw a party of his mates passing at a distance. He called loudly for help. Guided by the voice they came. Still more nervously did he cling—in a few moments he might be safe. Then, as two strong arms grasp each of his wrists firmly, he ventures to look down the dreaded depths. One glance is enough, that one look tells him that his feet are within four inches of the bottom. It is to be feared that in his orisons the collier lad was not as thankful to Providence as he should have been.

NEEDLESS VIGILANCE.

The other day a sentry-post at the government offices in St. James park was discontinued after some twenty years of needless vigilance. Some time about 1864 the military commission sat in a back building abutting on the park. In order to mark the solemnity of the occasion they clapped a member of the rank and file upon the entrance, which was thus held at the point of the bayonet from 10 till 4 o'clock. The commission accomplished its work, which was, no doubt, to draw up a report, which was relegated, as such documents are, to the pigeon-holes of the department moving in the matter. Anyway, the commission disappeared but the sentry remained. Two decades have passed away, and still Thomas Atkins, with his red coat, his fixed bayonet, and his twenty yards of sentry-go, paced up and down, up and down the brief parade fixed by his superiors. He was relieved at regular intervals by another sentinel. A growing generation of men and women have often wondered and asked why that sentinel was kept on duty. There was nothing to guard, and for twenty years he guarded it, unquestionably, with a soldier's implicit faith in the wisdom of the superior officer who put him there. He had been forgotten, in fact.

THE WRONG LEG.

Speaking of bone-setters recalls a good story which occurred in the north of Scotland, where one of them had risen to great fame and no small fortune by his skill. A country lad residing a few miles off had got his leg hurt at one of the local factories and had been treated for some time by the local medical man without any good result. His mother, who had great faith in the neighboring bone-setter, wanted the lad to go to him, which he declined, preferring, he said, the "reg'lar faculty." Eventually, however, his mother's persuasions prevailed, and he agreed to allow himself to be taken to see Daniel R——, the bone-setter. A bed for the invalid was extemporized on a cart, and, accompanied by his anxious mother, he was, after a rat painful journey, taken to the to where the bone-setter resided. T leg was duly examined, and it was found necessary to haul it very severely in order, as the bone-setter said, "to get the bone in." The lad was liberal with his screams while this was going on, but eventually the bone was "got in," and he was told to go home and in a few days he would be all right and fit for his work.

He was lifted up on the cart again, and with his mother seated beside him set off for home. "Didn't Danny do the thing well?" said the joyous old lady. "Yes, he did, mother," said the lad, "but I was na sic a fool as to gie him the sair leg!" The "reg'lar faculty" will, we have no doubt, appreciate the story.

A BLIND MAN'S DOG.

Some time since a blind gentleman, well known in the north of England, went for a walk of several miles, accompanied by his dog. He knew the road so well that he did not strap up the dog, but let it run loose. He had gone nearly five miles on his way, and was crossing some fields by a footpath, when his dog gave a peculiar whine in front of him. He was about to climb a stile when another whine was heard. This startled him, so he crossed the stile as carefully as he could, feeling every step. Just as he got over the stile the dog gave a louder whine of alarm, placed his fore-feet upon his breast and held him fast against the stile. He tried to push the dog aside, but it would not let him proceed. The strap was therefore put around his neck, and the wise creature at once led its master by a roundabout way quite out of the ordinary path. It appeared that the footpath which led past a stream had been entirely washed away by a flood, so that, had the gentleman continued upon the old path, he must have met with a most serious accident.

What made the sagacity of the dog more conspicuous on this occasion was the fact that it had not been with its master for eighteen months, he having been laid up for the whole of that period, and the dog living with a friend during the illness.

The New York City papers some time ago estimated the wealth of Senator J. P. Jones at $4,000,000. The Virginia Report of last Saturday's issue makes the estimate still higher at $5,000,000. It is not probable that either has reliable data on which to base a correct estimate. Ex-Governor Stoneman, of California, who returned from Alaska a few days ago, is represented as saying that the mines on Douglas Island, in which the Senator is largely interested, are paying its owners at the rate of $100,000 per month and the milling capacity, hence the yield of the property, is soon to be doubled; that there is enough of the precious metal in sight in these mines to pay the whole debt of the Government. That the wealth of these mines is almost fabulous, and will prove a source of great income there is no doubt; that the Comstock mines under Jones' control will prove even more largely remunerative seems equally well assured. His numerous other mining, landed and city properties in California also are fast enhancing in value. Jones is destined to be immensely wealthy.

Notwithstanding the protestations of Sherman's friends to the contrary, it is apparent that Governor Foraker is no admirer of Senator Sherman. At the Toledo Convention the other day Sherman was fulsome in praise of Foraker and his famous telegraphic response to Cleveland's rebel flag order, "No rebel flags will be returned while I am Governor of Ohio." In a half hour's speech accepting the nomination, Governor Foraker did not so much as mention the name of the man whom the convention "heartily and cordially" indorsed as Ohio's choice for the Presidency in 1888. Foraker has an army of friends in Ohio, and when his influence is exerted, it is believed that it will not be for Sherman, but for James G. Blaine, of Maine.

No wonder Nevada is remaining in the background while California is booming. Secretary Street, of the California Immigration Bureau, reports having sent out by freight last week 600 pounds of pamphlets, in addition to about 100 pounds sent out daily by mail. Of the 600 pounds sent by freight 400 pounds were for Omaha, the distributing point, and the remaining 200 pounds were addressed to North Carolina. This is exclusive of probably 300 pounds of pamphlets sent out from Los Angeles and other cities of the southern part of the State. Advertising, when properly done, pays handsome returns, and when the work done in California to attract immigration is seen the cause of the boom there becomes apparent.

The receipts of the sale of the two carloads of melons brought up Saturday from California amounted to over $600. The owner, after paying nearly $200 as freight, realizing handsomely. There should be plenty of loamy soil in Carson and Truckee valleys well adapted to growing melons. Melons have sold this year in this market as high as nine bits apiece, and possibly higher. If such prices be paid and, ranchers of California can find a market for them here by the carload, it would seem to be a good business for Nevada ranchers to engage in.

This is a bad year for boodlers. Boodledom is routed, horse and dragoon, in the leading cities from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The crusades against the cowboys of Arizona and New Mexico are temporarily suspended, while as never before in the history of the country the war wages against the boodlers of New York, Cincinnati, Chicago and San Francisco.

There are probably fifty Nevada children who are receiving an education in colleges and other schools outside of the State. It is to be hoped that with Hon. Leroy D. Brown, as President and an able faculty there may be inducements at our State University to attract to Reno at least those students who reside within our State lines.

Hawaii in name is a kingdom; in reality it is a republic. The new constitution has been submitted to King Kalakaua and his signature is affixed. The King has hardly as much authority now as the President of the United States. The House of Nobles and the House of Representatives are elected by the people and respectively have fully as much authority and similar duties as the Senate and House of Representatives in this country. By a two-thirds vote of the two Houses any veto of the King may be overruled. The Constitution provides that to be eligible, both the nobles and representatives must be well educated, the former to own real estate in the kingdom valued at $3,000 at least, or an income of $600 a year or more, and the latter real estate valued at $500, or an annual income of $250 or more. In all the branches of Government, executive, legislative and judiciary, the new Hawaiian Constitution is modeled after the Constitution of the United States and in very many respects it is superior to the latter.

To a reporter last Saturday ex-Premier Gibson, of the Hawaiian Islands, said that he came to San Francisco for "a vacation and the benefit of my health." Judging from published reports of the condition of affairs at the pigmy Kingdom, the climate there is rather unhealthy for Mr. Gibson—in other words, too hot for him.

FOREIGN DISPATCHES

Affecting Parting of Emperors.

GASTIEN, August 8.

The scene at the parting of the Emperors yesterday was touching. Emperor William pressed the hand of Emperor Francis Joseph and said: "By the Almighty's leave, au revoir until next year." Emperor Francis Joseph replied: "It is sure and certain." At this point Emperor William was overcome with emotion. He kissed Emperor Francis Joseph again and again, and they finally separated.

Large Fire in Dublin.

DUBLIN, August 8.

Lambert & Brien's oil stores and several other establishments on Grafton street, this city, were burned today. Other buildings in the neighborhood were damaged. The loss is placed at half a million dollars.

WESTERN DISPATCHES

San Francisco's Wheat Market.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 8.

There is no change as affecting the local wheat market. No call has yet been issued for the session of the call Board, and no price has been established in consequence for wheat.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

—Bar silver 96.

It is rumored in Vienna that Prince Ferdinand will start for Bulgaria this evening with the intention of formally abdicating the Bulgarian throne.

Amos Reed, at one time acting Governor of Utah, died suddenly yesterday morning at his home near Branchville, Prince George's county, Md., aged 64 years.

—A special from Fort Worth, Texas, says: By an accidental explosion of a keg of powder last night, three boys were fatally and several others seriously burned. They, with a number of men, were engaged in celebrating the victory over the Prohibitionists.

Another Yacht Race.

COTTAGE CITY, Mass., August 8.

A fine northeast breeze is blowing this morning, and a magnificent race to Marblehead is promised. Two-thirds of the way it will be a beat to the windward. It is expected that the winning yachts will reach Marblehead in about 18 hours. The stake is $1,000. The signal gun was fired at 7 o'clock, and the big yachts crossed the line in the following order: Puritan, Volunteer, Atlantic, Mayflower and Priscilla. The Puritan and Volunteer had estimated their distance with wonderful precision and crossed within a few seconds of each other under full sail and headway on the port tack, the Puritan keeping to the windward. At 7:20 the Electra steamed after the fleet in a hurry. At that time the leaders were hull down on the horizon. The Puritan and Volunteer, apparently neck and neck, are making wonderful time. Cheers from steamers and yachts rang out as the two leaders passed close under the lea of the Electra, and within 100 feet of each other. The start was a fine one. By 8 o'clock every sail had disappeared beneath the horizon under a strong breeze, which blew steadily and gave no sign of fagging out. About five miles from shore the Volunteer went ahead of the Puritan in fine style, and closed upon the Sachem, which had come down with the tide and was leading the fleet.

CHATHAM, Mass., August 8.

The sloop yachts at 12:15 were standing in from Pollock Rip toward Chatham lights. The Volunteer leads the fleet. The Puritan is second, about a mile aft.

A Large Catholic Building Proposed.

PITTSBURG, August 8.

Collections were taken up yesterday in every German Catholic church to erect a German Memorial House in New York in honor of the 50th anniversary of the ordination of Pope Leo XIII as a priest. The building will be named The Leo House, and will be used for German emigrants. The money collected by German Catholics in this country for the ordination celebration is to be used for this purpose, while the amount received from all other nationalities of Catholics will be sent direct to Rome.

Broken Up by a Mob.

NEW YORK, August 8.

The long-talked-of prize fight between Johnny Reagan and Tom Henry came off this morning early. The men fought 38 rounds. The fight, which was decided a draw, was broken up by a mob. The scene of battle was 50 miles up the Hudson river.

Drouth and Forest Fires.

CHEBOYGAN, Mich., August 8.

The village is enveloped in a dense smoke from forest fires which are destroying the valuable timber around here. The drouth has been so protracted that all kinds of vegetation is like tinder.

Mooney, the Dynamiter.

NEW YORK, August 8.

"Down with the English flag. Hurrah for the Stars and Stripes," shouted Thomas J. Mooney, the incendiary who tried to fire the steamer Queen, as he waved his hat this morning in the Jefferson Market Court. He had been brought there and placed among the audience, to see if he could be identified by Robert Sinclair, the colored steward of the steamer Guyandette, of the Old Dominion line, as the dynamiter who caused the explosion and injury some time ago to that vessel. Sinclair, however, failed to recognize Mooney, and the latter was again returned to the prison pen.

John W. Mackay in New York.

NEW YORK, August 8.

John W. Mackay declined to-day to make any statement to the public through Manager Pratt, of the Nevada Bank of San Francisco. Mr. Mackay said that he never authorized the published statement to the effect that a cable rate had been agreed upon at 40 cents per word. The silver king left the Hoffman House early and went right to the bank, where he received quite a number of callers. He lunched with J. D. Moore, and when spoken to, laconically remarked: "I have nothing to say to reporters."

Quick Traveling.

Charley Blethen, an employe of the Virginia and Gold Hill Water Company at Lake Tahoe, when he heard on Saturday morning last of the accident that happened to his father the day previous, made arrangements at once to come and see him. A box six feet long and V-shaped, so that it would readily pass through the company's large flume down the mountain to Lake View, was made for him. Lying down in it, his head resting on his satchel, the cover was nailed on. He had a hole cut in it large enough to allow him to look out when he so desired. The box and contents were carried to the flume, laid in the rushing water, and off it darted at lightning speed. Very shortly afterwards he was at the base of the mountain, having traveled a distance of probably eight miles in as many minutes. He kicked the cover off the box, got out and in a short time boarded the Virginia and Truckee local passenger train that came along, bound for Reno.

After Another Rich Specimen.

Mr. Charles Bartlett, of Hawthorne, was the happiest looking passenger seen at the Depot Hotel last night. He was on his way to Oakland, where on Wednesday next he will marry the daughter of a prominent attorney of that place. He brought with him some very fine specimens of ore from Montezuma and Hawthorne, which were taken from the New York, Caraca, Arizona, Bullion and Silver mines. The latter mine recently produced $8,000 gold in a three weeks' run, only 18 tons of which having been crushed to secure such a happy result. It was hard for the reporter to tell from which source his great joy emanated—the prospects of the approaching honeymoon or the high hopes he entertained of the future of Esmeralda county.

Pure Water for Stock.

Dairymen should provide pure water for stock. Impure water is a fertile source of disease and milk contamination, and yet it is a fact that many people give the subject no consideration whatever. Stock is permitted to drink out of any sort of pool that happens to be handiest, and to do so often when but little expense and trouble would provide plenty of good water. It is in the little violations of the plain laws of nature that all of us are apt to be the greatest offenders. But the aggregate results of these small violations are often exceeding disastrous. A word to the wise is sufficient, or ought to be.

Mineral Production in 1886.

The following condensed statement of the production of the more important minerals of the United States in the calendar year 1886 is issued by the United States Geological Survey in advance of a report:

Notably increased production and also an increase in value have been the general characteristics of the mineral industries during 1886. The total value of gold produced was $35,000,000, an increase of $3,199,000 over 1885. The production of silver decreased from $51,600,000 in 1885 to $51,000,000 in 1886. The total production of lead increased to 136,629 tons.

Good Work.

One of the finest jobs of plastering ever seen in Reno is that receiving the finishing touches in the new Queen Anne residence of W. D. Phillips. The work has been done by L. C. Hawk, who arrived in Reno only a few months ago from Cincinnati, Ohio, and who proposes establishing a home here. The walls are perfectly smooth and white, and the corners as square as any ever seen. All of the finishing touches show good and intelligent workmanship.

Alleged Black-leg Cure.

Says the Virginia Chronicle: C. L. Hussey, of Reno, has been south of Carson experimenting with his new discovery on black-leg. He makes an incision between the hoofs of the diseased animal and inoculates with his medicine. He experienced on two diseased calves in Antelope Valley, and it is reported by an eye witness that the cure in each case was almost instantaneous.

Two Solid Men.

J. L. Fitz Gerald, of the Depot Hotel, and the well-known traveling man, J. S. Gregory, passed down Virginia street this morning, both dressed alike. They are of the same height and weight, and as they passed a bevy of Reno kids, one of them shouted, after posing a moment, "Look at de twins. Two for a quarter."

Fancy Goods.

Miss Emma Gibbs has returned from San Francisco with a large stock of fancy goods, which she will have ready for sale by to-morrow at her store on Virginia street, below the postoffice.

Donner Party Not Forgotten.

A subscription paper has been started at Truckee, the object being to raise money to mark the spot where on Donner Lake, the Donner party pitched their tents in the Fall of '49. It is proposed to erect on the spot a cross, or crosses, made of wood, about 50 feet high, and similar to that at Lone Mountain. The amount to be subscribed by any one person is limited to one dollar. The movement is a worthy one and should meet with encouragement. In this connection it might be stated that a son of one of the surviving ladies of that ill-fated Donner party is a resident of Reno.

In the District Court.

The North Truckee Ditch Company has been having a suit in the District Court against Messrs. Say, Dunning, Wallace, Bishop and Tinkem. To-day at 12 o'clock the case was submitted to Judge Bigelow. To-morrow, before rendering a decision, he goes out to view the ditch and water situation over which since last Wednesday the contest has been going on.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all you breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not be there your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Bosehee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed us, you may depend upon this for certain.

A Perilious Postponement.

To postpone, when the duty for immediate action is clear, is always unwise. Especially is it so when increasing ill health calls for a resort to medication. Diseases of the kidneys and bladder are often of swift growth—always of fatal tendency if not combatted at the outset. We have all—even those of us who are not remarkably well instructed—heard something of the danger attending Bright's disease, diabetes, and other diseases of the kidneys or bladder. Let no one be foolhardy enough to procrastinate if he perceives the renal organs to be inactive. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are peculiarly adapted to overcome this inaction, to sufficiently stimulate, without exciting, the kidneys and bladder. Infinitely is this diuretic to be preferred to the impure and fiery stimulants of commerce, which prove the bane of unwary persons with a tendency to renal troubles. They are likewise incomparable for dyspepsia, debility, fever and ague and biliousness.

Baby Humors

And all Skin and Scalp Diseases Speedily Cured by Cuticura.

OUR LITTLE SON WILL BE FOUR year of age on the 25th inst. In May, 1885, he was attacked with a very painful breaking out of the skin. We called in a physician who treated him for about four weeks. The child received little or no good from the treatment, as the breaking out, supposed by the physician to be hives in an aggravated form, became larger in blotches, and more and more distressing. We were frequently obliged to get up in the night and rub him with soda in water, strong liniments, etc. Finally, we called other physicians, until no less than six had attempted to cure him, all alike failing, and the child steadily getting worse and worse, until about the 20th of last July, when we began to give him CUTICURA RESOLVENT internally, and the CUTICURA, and CUTICURA SOAP externally, and by the last of August he was so nearly well that we gave him only one dose of the RESOLVENT about every second day for about ten days longer, and he has never been troubled since with the horrible malady. In all we used less than one-half of a bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, a little less than one box of CUTICURA, and only one cake of CUTICURA SOAP.

Dr. Prentice on Reno.

A prominent business man of Reno this morning received from Yellowstone Park a letter from Dr. C. M. Prentice, who made a professional visit to this place a few weeks ago. The doctor says: "Well, here we are in Yellowstone Park. Since leaving Reno have traveled overland to Portland, up the Columbia river, through the pines to Tacoma, over the celebrated Switch-back which is truly wonderful. We have been in Spokane, Helena, Butte City, all of which are at a boom, but none of which I like as Reno, nor do they have as good natural advantages."

GALENA MINING DISTRICT

Four Hundred Thousand Dollars Paid for Mill and Mining Property—Blossom and Higby—Wilson's Mines.

Messrs. J. A. Blossom, R. B. Higby and Col. W. S. Wilson have recently returned from San Francisco to Battle Mountain. The two former are interested in the Pittsburg Reduction Works, which are located at Galena and crusing 40 tons of good milling ore daily. While at the Bay they completed arrangements so that they can dispose of at least 100 tons per day. This mill is under the control of a New York syndicate, represented by Mr. Thurber. They receive their ores from the Hamburg, Goodman and Consolidated Plumas mines, and they have enough ore on hand to keep the works in constant operation at the rate of 100 tons per day, for the next seven months without regard to what is being mined at present. He says all the mines are valuable on the lode and that the property he sold through C. A. Moring, civil engineer, to Mr. Jacob Summer Gates, of London, was paid for and that they received the magnificent sum of $400,000 for it. The Pittsburg works are supplied by the "Evening Star," "Cumberland," "Ida Henrietta" and "Lady Carrie" also. There are tons of rich ore lying at these mines now and the supply, Mr. Blossom says, appears to be inexhaustible. "You have no idea, sir," said he to this reporter, "what a wonderfully rich mineral region there is in and about Galena. You must come and see for yourself and we will take pleasure in showing you the country. They may talk of all the Territories and old California herself, but give me Nevada. She is rich enough, the only thing needed to make her more prosperous than she is for her citizens to manifest a little more spirit and enterprise themselves, and thus by exhibiting a confidence in her possibilities will they be enabled to enlist foreign and domestic capital to invest in the development of her rich natural resources, and not before."

Mr. W. S. Wilson, of Marysville, Lander county, Nevada, who came up from the Bay this morning also was interviewed. He said: Myself and four sons are running the Marysville Mining Company's mines in the Pittsburg District and shipping ore to the Reno Reduction Works. The ore averages about $150 per ton. We make shipments every two weeks, sending 20 tons at each time. The company has various claims lying contiguous to the Marysville proper. The Yreka and Webfoot are working with results as I have stated. There are seven other claims there which we control. One first-class sample ore shipped to Salt Lake City yielded in silver 1,600 ounces, gold, 36 ounces. Second-class, 350 ounces. Third class, 60 ounces. These mines, which are run by Mr. Wilson and his four sons, are all paying properties.

Sudden Death in Church.

Mrs. Anna J. Johnson, a sister of Henry Orr and John Orr, old-time residents of Reno, died suddenly in the Methodist Episcopal Church yesterday morning. When she arrived at the church the first hymn was being sung, and as she entered her pew she bowed to several friends and then sat down. In a few moments she cried out, "I'm dying," and then fell forward. It was believed that she had merely fainted and several assisted in carrying her to the class-room in the rear of the edifice. Dr. Dawson was summoned and pronounced her dead. It appears that Mrs. Johnson had a brother and sister, both of whom living until quite aged, die in a similar way. The remains were removed in a carriage to her late residence on Virginia street, near Fourth, and telegrams sent to her brother Thomas, who resides at Yreka, Cal., and William, who resides at Dillon, Montana. Both of the sons are expected to arrive tomorrow, when notice of the funeral will be given. The deceased was 68 years of age and a native of Guernsey county, Ohio.

Nevada University Slighted.

Last evening quite a large number of our young people left for California, where they will attend school. Of those who left to attend the Pacific University at Santa Clara this reporter noticed Miss Gertie Barnett, of Carson, and Frank Barnes, of this place; of those who will attend the State Normal at San Jose, Misses Maud McIntosh, Echlo Lozier, May Wheeler, of this place, Miss Cora Angel, of Silver City, and two other young ladies from Gold Hill. George Kelly, son of Michael Kely, of Sutro, was also among the number. He expects to graduate at the Santa Clara College next June.

Kelly's Horse Billy.

Mr. R. P. M. Kelly, the Washoe nurseryman, having read in the GAZETTE an article to the effect that Heister Stevens had the oldest horse (35 years) in Nevada, approached one of the staff this morning and said that he had a horse named "Billy," as gray as Rip Van Winkle, and that he is 33 years of age. Mr. Kelly says that he will enter him at the State Fair and give anyone owning a horse his age, or older, ten paces in a running race for any amount of money he wishes to put up.

The Carson people are kicking against Colonel Sutherland, manager of the Caledonia picnic, because on his way to Bowers' Mansion he didn't stop the excursion train at the Carson depot last Saturday to give the Carson folks an opportunity to get their hands on some of the Comstock boys' spending money.

On Saturday last two car-loads of melons were shipped here from Lodi, California. One was taken to Carson and Virginia and the other remained here. Quite a number of our Reno people attended the Caledonia picnic at Bowers' Mansion last Saturday. It is estimated that there were present in all about 1,000 persons. The club, as usual on such occasions, had some interesting games, and gave everybody an opportunity to have a good time.

RENO WATER.

A Scientific Analysis of that Supplied the Town and of Hunter Creek.

RENO WATER COMPANY.

OFFICE OF C. M. FASSETT,
DRUGGIST AND ASSAYER,
RENO, NEV., June 28, 1887.

T. K. HYNERS, ESQ., CHAIRMAN BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISIONERS—DEAR SIR:

In accordance with your request I have made examinations of three samples of water furnished by you, with special reference to such impurities as would render it unfit for domestic use, and beg leave to present the following report:

Sample No. 1 was taken from the river about ten miles above town, at the point where the Highland ditch takes it supply; sample No 2 was taken from the main reservoir, four feet from the surface, near where the water used in the town is taken; sample No. 3 was taken from the Highland ditch just before it empties into the main reservoir. The following is a tabulated statement of the results of the tests made:

(In parts per million.)

SAMPLES.	No. 1	No. 2	No. 3
Free ammonia	.0476	.1562	.0478
Albumenoid ammonia	.0833	.2094	.0959

(In grains per gallon.)

SAMPLES.	No. 1	No. 2	No. 3
Total solids	5.5296	6.7584	9.8304
Organic solids	.6144	.9216	.6144
Mineral matter	4.9152	5.8368	9.2160
Chlorine	Trace	Trace	Trace

The ammonia found indicates the proportion of contamination from animal sources, such as sewage, decomposing animal matter, etc., and in Nos. 1 and 3 is in as small proportion as can be expected in a stream which flows through as many towns as the Truckee; while in No. 2 it is in three times the quantity as in the others, and above the limit of safety—fixed by most authorities at .08 to .12 parts free ammonia, and .18 to .20 parts albumenoid ammonia per million of water.

The second table shows the results obtained from careful evaporation of the water; drying and ignition of the residue in platinum crucibles, and proves that the water of the Truckee is as free from deleterious matters, prejudicial to health, as that supplied to almost any city of the Union.

Impurities resulting from sawdust in the river would be shown in the table under the head of "organic solids," but the results obtained show that the amount of such matter is very small; much less, indeed, than is contained in many natural springs, some of which carry five grains or more of organic matter to the gallon just where they bubble from the earth.

The comparatively large amount of total solids in sample No. 3 is accounted for by the fact that the sample was taken from the ditch the second day the water was running in it, after it had been empty for a few days, the water naturally being turbid from fine particles of silt taken up from the bed of the ditch.

The samples all show an alkaline reaction, but so slight as to be immaterial: being less than one-tenth of the limit of safety, placed at "an alkalinity greater than that produced by adding one part, by weight, of caustic soda to one thousand parts of distilled water."

These various results show:

First—That the water supplied to the town through the main reservoir is not sufficiently pure to be used for domestic purposes with safety.

Secondly—That the water in the river is reasonably pure and wholesome, and

Thirdly—That the water supplied to the town receives the greater part of its impurities in the main reservoir and its approaches.

As applicable to the sawdust question, I quote the following extract from an article on water by Professor S. P. Sadtler, Ph. D., Professor of Chemistry in the University of Pennsylvania, etc., etc.: "Organic matter may be derived from a vegetable source, such as leaf mould, and the decomposition products of wood, in which case it is practically harmless, or it may be derived from animal sources, in which case it almost always causes a serious impurity."

Respectfully submitted,
C. M. FASSETT, Analyst.

HUNTER CREEK.

RENO, Nevada, July 1s, 1887.

RENO AND HUNTER CREEK WATER CO.—GENTLEMEN:—A few days ago, at the request of, and in company with Mr. James Mayberry, of your corporation, I visited Hunter Creek and obtained a sample of water from that stream, which I have carefully analyzed with results as stated below:

I find the water to be soft, clear and without color, odor or taste; of slight alkaline reaction and containing no trace of contamination from animal sources. It contains a trace of organic matter of vegetable origin, and 4.403 grains of mineral matter per gallon, consisting principally of silica and salts of lime and iron. These results show that the water of Hunter Creek is of remarkable purity and eminently fitted for drinking and all domestic uses—in fact, a water more pure and healthful would be hard to find anywhere. Reno is to be congratulated on having an available supply of such excellent water.

Very respectfully yours,
C. M. FASSETT, Analyst.

DULUTH.

Bill Nye's Description of Lake Superior's Surroundings.

Duluth has been joked a good deal, but she stands it first rate and takes it good naturedly. She claims 16,000 people, some of whom I met at the opera house there. If the rest of the 16,000 are as pleasant as those I conversed with that evening, Duluth must be a pleasant place to live in. Duluth has a very pleasant and beautiful opera house that seats 1,000 people. A few more could have elbowed their way into the opera house the evening that I spoke there but they preferred to suffer on at home.

Lake Superior is one of the largest aggregations of fresh wetness in the world, if not the largest. When I stop to think that some day all this cold, cold water will have to be absorbed by mankind, it gives me a cramp in the geographical centre.

Around the west end of Lake Superior there is a string of towns which stretches along the shore for miles under one name or another, all waiting for the boom to strike and make the northern Chicago. You cannot visit Duluth or Superior without feeling that any moment the tide of trade will rise and designate the point where the future metropolis of the northern lakes is to be. I firmly believe that this summer will decide it, and my guess is that what is now known as West Superior is to get the benefit. For many years destiny has been hovering over the west end of this mighty lake and now the favored point is going to be designated. Duluth has past prosperity and expensive improvements in her favor, and in fact the whole locality is going to be benefited, but if it had a block in West Superior with a roller rink on it, I would wear my best clothes every day and claim to be a millionaire in disguise. Ex-President R. B. Hayes has a large brick block in Duluth, but he does not occupy it. Those who go to Duluth hoping to meet Mr. Hayes will be bitterly disappointed.

The streams that run into Lake Superior are alive with trout, and next summer I propose to go up there and roast until I have so thoroughly saturated my system with trout that the trout bones will stick out through my clothes in every direction and people will regard me as a beautiful toothpick holder.

Still there will be a few left for those who think of going up there. All I will need will be barely enough to feed Albert Victor and myself from day to day. People who have never seen a crowned head with a peeled nose on it are cordially invited to come over and see us during office hours. Albert is not at all haughty, and I intend to throw aside my usual reserve this summer also—for the time. P. Wales' son and I will be far from the cares that crowd so thick and fast on greatness. People who come to cedar bark wigwam to show us their mosquito bites will be received as cordially as though no great social chasm yawned between us.

Many will meet us in the depths of the forest and go away thinking we are just common plugs of whom the world wots not; but there is where they will fool themselves.

Then when the season is over we will come back into the great maelstrom of life, he to wait for his grandmother's overshoes and I to thrill waiting millions from the rostrum with my "Tale of the Bronco Cow." And soit goes with us all. Adown life's rugged pathway some must toil on as from daylight to dark to earn their meagre pittance as kings, while others are born to wear a swallow-tail coat every evening and wring tears of genuine anguish from their audiences.

They tell me some rather wide stories about people who have gone up there total physical wrecks and returned strong and well. One man said that he knew a young college student who was all run down and weak go up there on the Brule and eat trout and fight mosquitoes a few months, and when he returned to his Boston home he was so stout and well and tanned up that his parents didn't know him. There was a man in our car who weighed 300 pounds. He seemed to be boiling out through his clothes everywhere. He was the happiest looking man I ever saw. All he seemed to do in this life was to sit all day and whistle and laugh and trot his stomach, first on one knee and then on the other.

He said that he went up into the pine forests of the Great Lake region a broken-down hypochondriac and confirmed consumptive. He had been measured for a funeral sermon three times, he said, and had never used either one of them. He knew a clergyman named Braley who went up into that region with Bright's justly celebrated disease. He was so emaciated that he couldn't carry a watch. The ticking of the watch rattled his bones so that it made him nervous, and at night they had to pack him up in cotton so that he wouldn't break off a leg when he turned over. He got to sleeping out nights on a bed of balsam and spruce boughs and eating venison and trout.

When he came down in the spring he passed through a car full of lumbermen, and one of them put a warm wet quid of tobacco in his plug hat for a joke. There were a hundred of those lumbermen when the preacher began, and when the train got into Eau Claire there were only three of them well enough to go around to the office and draw their pay.

This is just as the story was given to me, and I repeat it to show how bracing the climate near Superior is. Remember, if you please, that I do not want the story to be repeated as coming from me, for I have nothing left now but my reputation for veracity, and that has had a very hard winter of it.—[N. Y. Mercury.

A schoolboy being asked to define the word "Admission," said it meant twenty-five cents. "Twenty-five cents!" echoed the master, "what sort of definition is that?" "I don't know," sulkily replied the boy, "but I am sure it says so on the advertisement down here at the show."

Let a man learn that everything in nature, even motes and feathers, go by law and not by "luck," and that what he sows he reaps.
